Vienna,

Past event

Information / Description:

The high quality of the European Biomass Conference and Exhibition (EUBCE) stems from combining one of the largest biomass science and technology conferences with a leading biomass industry and technology exhibition, attracting the entire professional biomass community from around the globe.

The key focus of the 23rd EUBCE will be interaction between research, industry and policy makers. The programme will offer overviews of the latest scientific findings, industrial progress and political landscape and will extend from biomass itself to conversion processes for biofuels, bioenergy and biorefineries and to the industrial applications and impacts on the environment.

The EU BC&E is supported by European and international organisations such as the European Commission, UNESCO - United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, Natural Sciences Sector, EUBIA - the European Biomass Industry Association, WCRE - the World Council for Renewable Energy and further organisations.

The Technical Programme is co-ordinated by the European Commission, Joint Research Centre.

Take this opportunity to present your latest results to specialists and decision makers from around the world by submitting your abstract until 27 October 2014.
