The 35th Electric Vehicle Symposium & Exhibition is the world’s largest electric mobility conference and exhibition to be held this year. It will take place in Oslo, Norway on 11-15 June 2022 at 08:00-18:00. In association with the European Association for Electromobility (AVERE) and the Norwegian EV Association, participants will hear the latest developments, future plans and technological solutions for Zero Emission Mobility and technology.

The Norwegian Minister for Climate and Environment, Espen Barth Eide, and the General Secretary of the Norwegian EV Association, Christina Bu, will give keynote speeches and welcome international delegates to EVS35. Other keynote speakers will include politicians and car industry leaders.

The 35th EVS programme consists of two main streams – the Scientific Series and the AVERE E-Mobility Conference (AEC2022) / Nordic EV Summit (NEVS) Series, and will be concluded with three high level plenary sessions spread across the duration of the Symposium.

For more information on the programme, please visit the website.

To register, see here.