Past event

Information / Description:

The 9th edition of the international Smart City Event will take place in The Hague (The Netherlands).

This year, experts from leading cities will present their unique projects of smart cities, including:

- Lambert van Nistelrooij, Member of the European Parliament for the EPP/CDA and Coordinator in the Committee on Regional Development, Vice-President of the Urban Intergroup
- Michel Bezuijen, Mayor of the city of Rijswijk
- Sed Saad, Professor at the American University in Dubai

In addition to hearing from smart city experts and front-running cities, you'll have the opportunity to engage with over 700 peers from across Europe and beyond

Additional activities include:

- Smart City Challenge: build your own smart city with your fellow experts and colleagues
- Roundtable sessions: ask experts what you need to know for your smart city

- Innovation playground: meet startups and innovative companies with smart city solutions
- Smart City Tours: visit smart city projects in the Netherlands
- Not so smart after party: network and have fun near the Sail at Scheveningen Village
